Objectives of International Inner Wheel

To promote true friendship
Clubs meet regularly and have a full and varied programme including speakers on subjects of interest. By meeting regularly friendships are built and maintained. Each Club plans interclub meetings when other Clubs are invited to join in the activities and in that way their circle of friends is broadened.

To encourage the ideals of personal service
By working together as friends, our Clubs have an outstanding record of personal service to the community.

To foster international understanding
Clubs support their own choice of overseas charities as well as their District and Association Overseas Service Chairman’s chosen charity. Clubs also support International Inner Wheel’s service project. Clubs correspond with their link Clubs overseas and meet every three years at the International Convention.

Membership now open to all women

Membership opened up

At the Convention in Istanbul 2012 a Proposal was carried overwhelmingly to open up membership.

This will have a huge impact on the future of our wonderful organisation.

What does this mean?

Clubs can now invite women with no connection to Inner Wheel or Rotary.

Membership may be retained or taken up by the following, provided they are over 18 years:

- Women related to Rotarians/former Rotarians
- Women related to Inner Wheel members/former Inner Wheel members
- Women who have been invited to join – provided a majority of the Club members agree

Proposal 17
Has simplified the membership categories. Women who believe in the importance of friendship, personal service and international understanding can be invited to join.

Starting a new club

A new Club can now be established by women related to Rotarians/former Rotarians, women related to Inner Wheel members/former Inner Wheel members and for the first time, by women who have been invited to join the organisation.

Existing clubs

Established Clubs can grow their membership by inviting women to join with no connection to Inner Wheel or Rotary. A simple majority of existing Club members should agree to this.

Call for new members

If you know somebody who is interested in joining International Inner Wheel, tell the Club President/Secretary or District Extension Organiser. They should meet that person to discuss the possibility of them either joining an existing Club or starting a new Club.

As soon as those new members join, they become full active members and can vote and hold office and participate in all aspects of the Club.

A welcoming committee should explain the objectives of Inner Wheel and how it works.

Spread the word!

Everyone should think about who they can invite to become new members. This is a fantastic opportunity to increase membership and inject new life into Clubs that may have struggled to attract new members under the old rules.

It is up to every Club to find new members. Tell your friends and family, place posters in public places and spread the word about our wonderful organisation.

Together we’ll protect its future.
